

2015 “HOMESTEAD” CHARDONNAY

NAPA VALLEY

Kuleto is one of the most complex and diverse wine producing properties in the world. Located in the volcanic mountains of eastern Napa our estate features 781 total acres and 82.9 acres of vines perched along ridges and clinging to steep hillsides. Our soils, exposures, elevation changes and sub-climates are so complex that we’ve delineated our property into more than 100 micro-blocks. Each of these tiny plots is treated as an individual vineyard with varieties, clones, rootstocks, density, trellising and farming methods tailored specifically to the site.

For winemaker John Clews, there is a mutual understanding that all but a small percentage of the winemaker’s work is done in the vineyard. Keeping the vineyard’s serpentine twists and exposures in mind, the best-suited varieties for each block have been selected. Working with the land, not against it, the individually terraced lots are not oriented to one central direction, but instead are planted to maximize the benefits of their natural location.

WINEMAKER’S NOTES

Vintage 2015 gave us yet another beautiful harvest in the Napa Valley. This following the fabulous vintages of 2012-2014 is a luxury we fully appreciate. This year in particular was marked by a few late-season heat spells that created opulent fruit with great concentration. The heat helps to completely ripen the grapes and bring out the tremendous fruit flavors and textural depth in the final wine.

We’ve been playing with methods to build power and flavor into our Chardonnays for years now – mostly by employing old-fashioned methods of soaking the crushed fruit on the stems for hours or days or fermenting a portion of the fruit partially or to complete dryness with skins and stems. Continuing with the method of skin and stem contact ‘perfected’ in 2013 and 2014, we expanded the amount wine in direct contact with stems in 2015 but pressed that portion off when very little alcohol had been created (at 20 Brix, the alcohol might be as little as 2%). This gave us the tannin grip we were looking for, the lime zest flavor in the mid-palate, and, whether it was the time on the skins, seeds, and stems or not, a pleasing coriander-like savory quality in the finish. In many whites, the flavor doesn’t hit you until the texture has registered. The 2015 is remarkable with its simultaneous attack of flavor and structure as soon as it hits your palate. It is both intensely fresh and immensely satisfying in terms of depth.
