BACCHUS VINEYARD
COLUMBIA VALLEY

VINEYARD & HARVEST

Bacchus Vineyard, Columbia Valley 100%

VARIETAL COMPOSITION

Riesling 100%

VINTAGE NOTES

We had a snowy start to the 2019 growing season and a wet spring without much frost pressure. The weather improved in June and continued with a nice, warm summer. We picked the Bacchus Riesling on September 11th. We were able to skirt some large rain events in September and ended up with some beautifully expressive fruit.

WINEMAKER'S NOTES

All of the fruit for the 2019 Riesling was sourced from the Bacchus Vineyard located near Pasco, WA on southwest-facing hillsides above the Columbia River. After harvest, the grapes were whole-cluster pressed and the juice was allowed to settle at 50F before racking off the solids. We inoculated with a Riesling-specific yeast and fermented the juice at a relatively cool temperature. Fermentation was stopped to soften the wine's crisp acidity. Aromas of crunchy Asian pear, stone fruit and white blossom lead to a beautiful off-dry mouth-filling experience of juicy stone fruits. A bright, balanced wine with crisp acidity on the finish.
